Dear Members,

Old hands will be looking to this issue of our Club magazine for details of a Club Rally Day in the Summer. And they'll quickly spot that there isn't one.

Why?

Well, in past years we have held our Rallies at the site of our big Summer displays, as at Brighton and Milton Keynes for example.

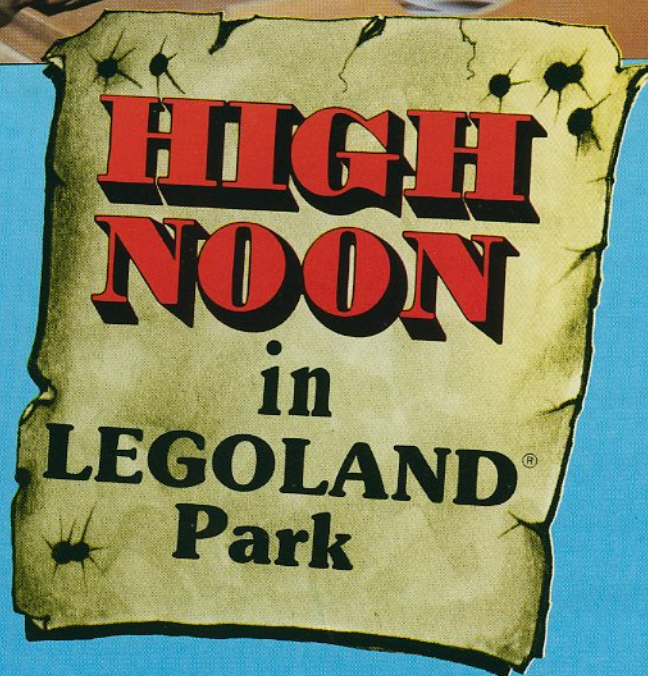

This year too we are having a Monster LEGO Show, from July 26th to August 19th in the International Garden Festival at Liverpool. But there is no way we can hold an exclusive "Members Only" rally in this huge Festival, as our Monster LEGO Show, despite its size, is only a small part of this vast event.

We felt that it would not be a true Club Day if members were just mixed up with countless thousands of the general public. But instead of a Rally Day, we have made special arrangements with the Festival organisers for Club Members to visit the show at special rates during the run of the LEGO show.

For full details see Back Cover

Of course, we think that a LEGO show on its own is worth travelling miles to see, but we have to admit that when you see this fantastic Garden Festival as well, then wow, that really should be a marvellous day out!

Clive Nicholls
CLUB PRESIDENT

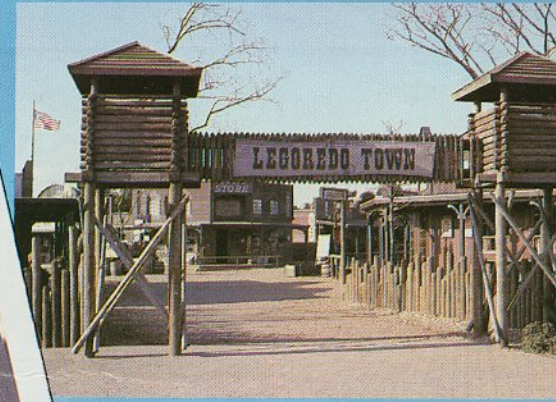

Have you ever imagined yourself living in a real wild west town, perhaps as the sheriff organising the townfolk to ward off the marauding indians! Well in LEGOREDO, the full size wild west town in the LEGOLAND Park, you can realise this dream. Not that the indians are a problem—they are a friendly bunch.

Construction of LEGOREDO commenced way back in 1970 with a saloon, sheriff's office, general store and indian camp. As you might expect the idea was an immediate success with visitors to the Park and over the last 10 years more buildings have been added including a hat shop, leather workshop, printing works, grill house and a gold mine. The gold mine is particular fun as you can pan for gold in the stream and make a gold coin from the nuggets you find.

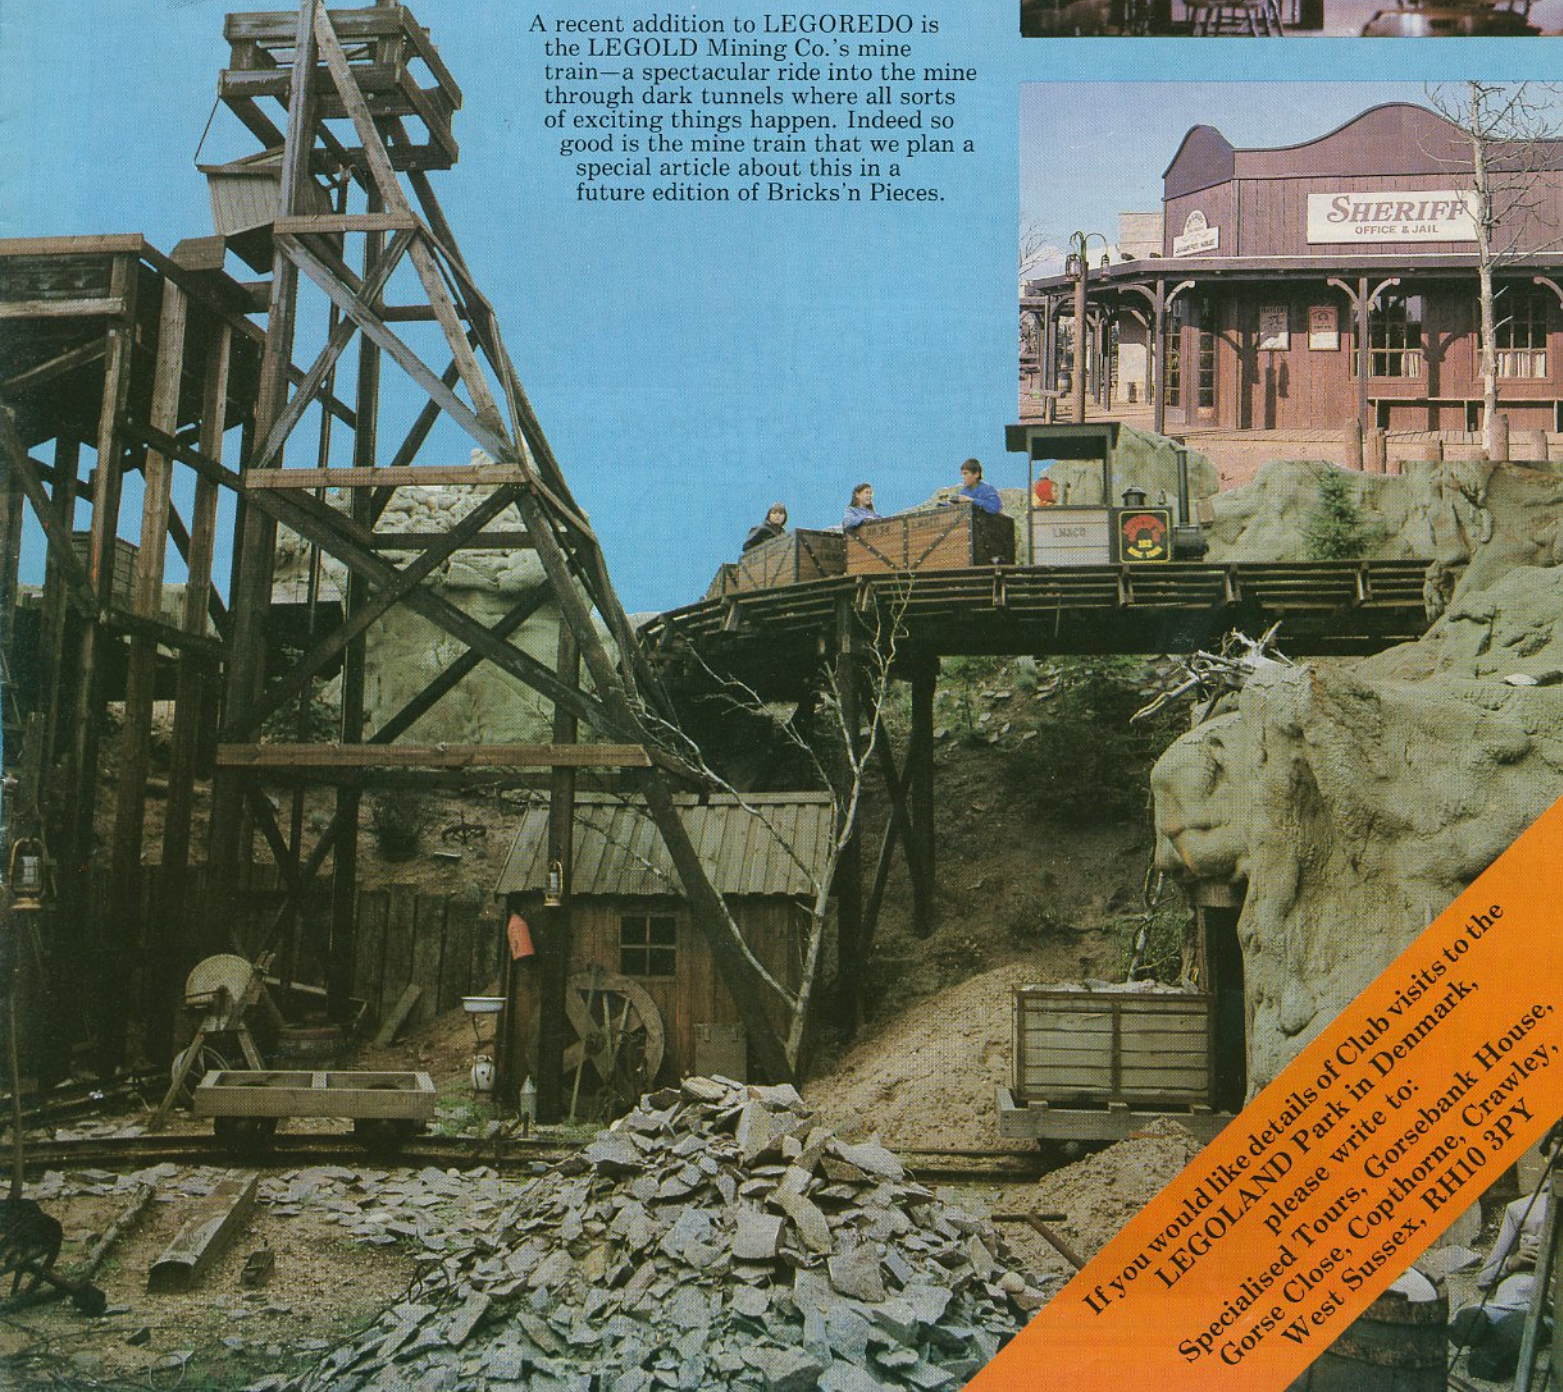

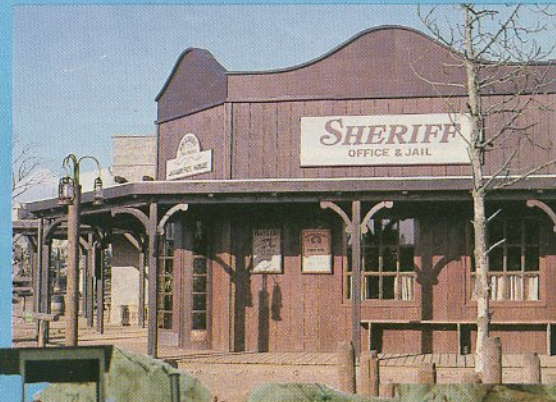

The saloon, run by saloon keeper "Annie", is very popular, especially with dads as draught beer is on sale. The lemonade and bar-b-q spare ribs are also very good—not to mention Annie's apple pie! The grill house across the street sells delicious western style steaks which you can grill yourself. But perhaps we should not pursue these mouth watering subjects. Naturally the town has a real sheriff complete with sheriff's office and if you are not careful you can find yourself in the cells. A safe option is to become a deputy sheriff complete with special badge. Then you can have a "wanted" poster printed in the printing works with your friend's name on it. Pony rides can be taken from the livery stables through a real piece of wild west country with cactus and water hole. In the nearby indian camp you can visit Chief White Eagle, become an honorary indian with indian feather and sit round the camp fire. On some days during the summer, LEGOREDO musicians play country music with banjos and guitars. On such days it is easy to sit outside the saloon with a cool drink and believe you are in Dodge City rather than LEGOREDO in Denmark.

A recent addition to LEGOREDO is the LEGOLD Mining Co.'s mine train—a spectacular ride into the mine through dark tunnels where all sorts of exciting things happen. Indeed so good is the mine train that we plan a special article about this in a future edition of Bricks'n Pieces.

CAPTAIN Indigo

Controlled from the planet Zark Captain Indigo & Polka Dot are transported back in time to search for the Zarkonian Jewel.

PHEW! that was some journey.

YES! but now we must start our quest for the Zarkonian Jewel.

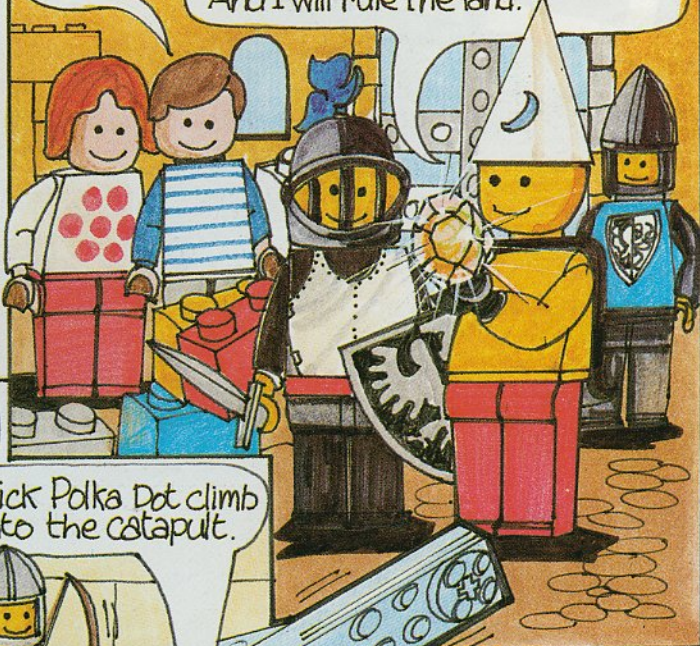

Where should we start our search?

Let's start at the castle. But remember the WIZARD, he could be dangerous.

SHHHH!

With the power of the Zarkonian Jewel we will capture Sir Richard. And I will rule the land.

The Jewel is changing colour And I can see there is a spy in our midst.

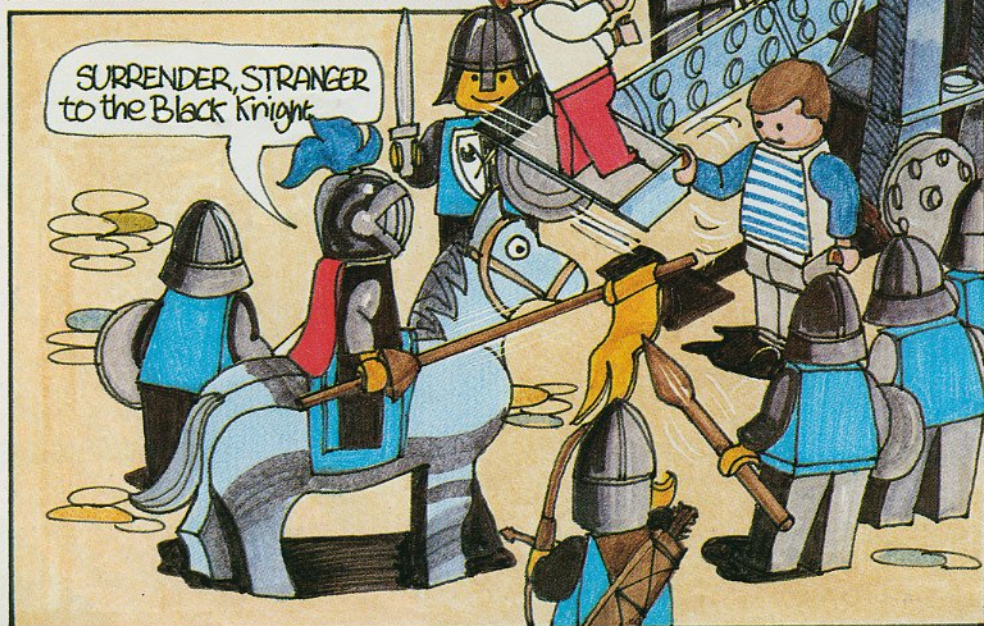

FIND THIS SPY AND BRING HIM TO ME!

Quick Polka Dot climb onto the catapult.

I always wanted to work in a circus.

UP, UP, AND AWAY GOES POLKA DOT TO FREEDOM, AND HELP FOR CAPTAIN INDIGO.

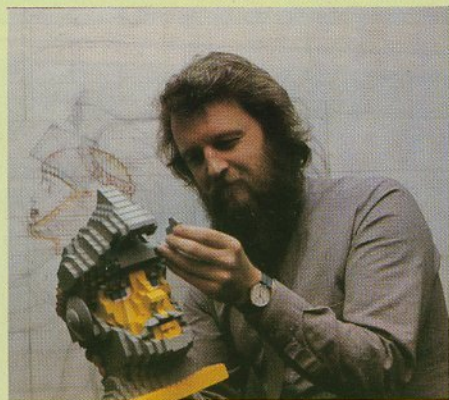

SURRENDER, STRANGER to the Black Knight

New Model Designer

Following the retirement of David Lyall just before last Christmas, we are pleased to tell you that John Duffield has joined LEGO UK as Chief Model Designer.

John is 36 and comes from Reigate in Surrey where he was a lecturer in sculpture and spent some time restoring precious objects. His spare time interests include designing sets for a local theatre, hospital radio and fairgrounds.

After completing a series of small projects, John's first major display is the Space Shuttle and Spacelab 1 to be exhibited in the Monster LEGO Show at Liverpool (see back cover). However, he has recently taken time off from this big model to design a special Castle adventure scene which you will find on pages 8 and 9.

I should like to take this opportunity to thank all my friends in the LEGO Club for your cards and letters wishing me a happy retirement.

I will continue to receive copies of the Club Magazine, and look forward to seeing all your many model designs. Many thanks to you all.

DAVID LYALL

COMPETITION TIME

A Tournament at Castle Lion

Castle Lion was in a fair and prosperous land; peace reigned, the harvests were good and the people merry and fearless.

One day Sir Richard decided to hold a friendly tournament between his neighbours and his knights. There would be jousting, archery, tug-of-war and many other knightly sports. Invitations were sent out to all the lands and generous prizes were offered for all the events. These prizes were placed in Sir Richard's Treasure Chest to be presented at the end of the tournament.

When the dastardly Black Knight, who lived in the Dark Castle beyond the Impenetrable Forest, heard of these treasures he couldn't resist a bit of cheating. He called his sneaky squire and instructed him to wait until the most exciting point in the tournament—the joust between the Black Knight and Sir Richard himself—then, while nobody was looking, steal the Treasure Chest!

Chief Model Designer, John Duffield says:

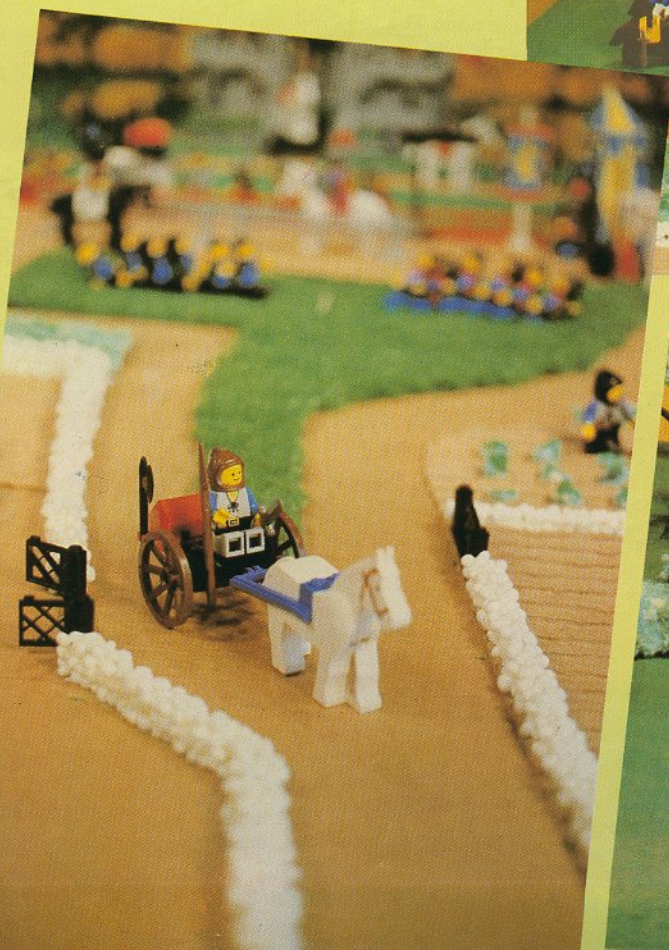

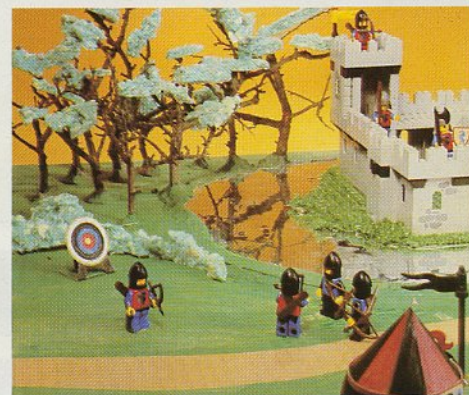

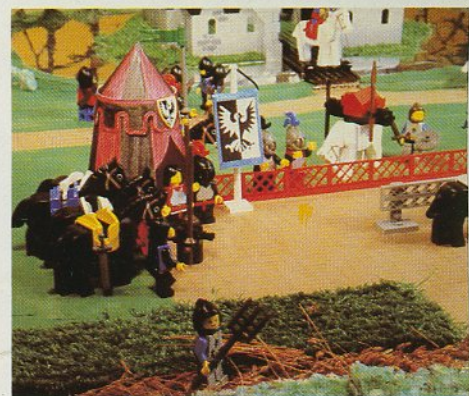

"Hello Chums, how about this for an idea, build yourself an Adventure Board for your LEGO collection.

"I built my board with card from an old box and scrap bits of materials like carpet, packing and foam. The LEGO gardener chose some twigs for me from the trees—so I couldn't wreck the garden—then I added some green foam for the leaves and a blob of plasticene to stand the trees up and 'hey presto' an impenetrable forest.

"The fields are from corrugated cardboard, bits of carpet, and dried flowers.

The drystone wall is made from polystyrene granules on double sided tape".

ASSEMBLING INSTRUCTIONS

1. Colour in with felt tip pens.

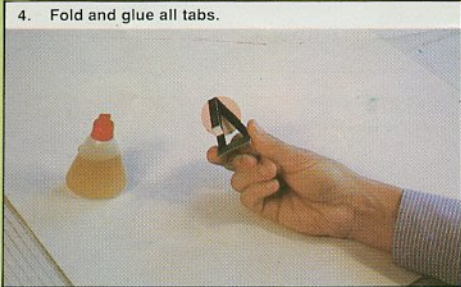

2. Cutting out.

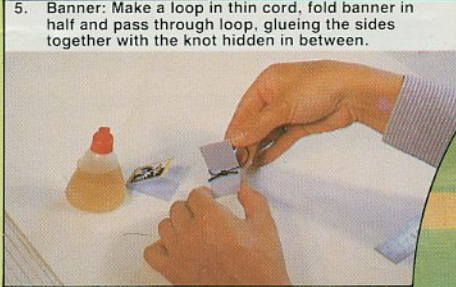

3. Curve the tent pieces pulling them under a ruler a few times.

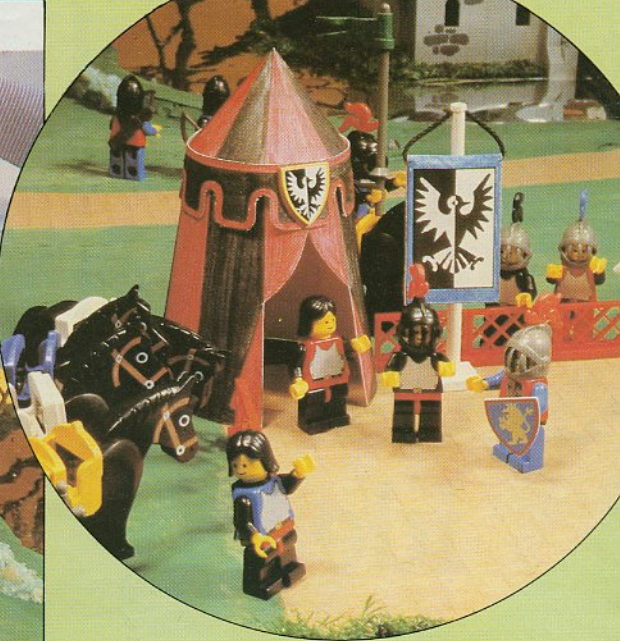

4. Fold and glue all tabs.

5. Banner: Make a loop in thin cord, fold banner in half and pass through loop, glueing the sides together with the knot hidden in between.

8. Tent and banner.

To get you started we have included a design for a knight's tent, banners and an archery butt.

Use our card as a template to trace from or maybe someone could photocopy a few for you. It's best to colour them in before you cut them out. Each of the competing knights would have a tent coloured in his family colours, with his banner displayed outside.

6. Tent stage 1.

7. Tent stage 2.

COMPETITION WINNERS

We have had the best ever response to the Club competition in our Spring magazine when we asked you to colour a picture of Sir Richard's Castle besieged by the Black Knight. LEGO Club staff took two days to sort through all the entries and pick the following winners.

Monster LEGO® Show for Liverpool

This year's Monster LEGO Show will be staged inside the Festival Hall at the International Garden Festival in Liverpool from July 26th to August 20th.

Among the superb LEGO models on display will be The Wind in the Willows, King Arthur and the Knights of the Round Table, Buckingham Palace, Peter Pan and Captain Hook, the Ark Builders, Coronation Street, and a really superb new model of the Space Shuttle Columbia with Spacelab 1. LEGO model designer John Duffield has spent many weeks building a 1:15 scale model of the Space Shuttle, using drawings supplied by NASA. The final model is over 2.5 metres long and includes many details of the shuttle with Spacelab 1 in the cargo hold, astronaut with jet pack, and remote control arm.

As Clive Nicholls has said in his letter on page 2, it has not been possible to hold a Club rally at Liverpool but we have arranged a special entrance price for members to the International Garden Festival at Liverpool which covers admission to the entire festival including the Monster LEGO show—see details below.

International Garden Festival—Liverpool

Running until October 14th (LEGO Monster show July 26th to August 19th only) the Garden Festival is a stunning 125 acres of exotic, theme, and fun gardens from all over the world, together with an ever changing programme of events and entertainments. An attraction which will appeal to many of you is the 2½ miles of miniature railway complete with three steam hauled trains on which you can ride around the festival (no additional charge). The finish of the Tall Ships race at the beginning of August is another big attraction.
